EYFS Policy

Statement of intent

At Ashwell School, we greatly value the importance of the early years foundation stage (EYFS) in providing a secure foundation for future learning and development.

This policy has been developed in conjunction with the relevant DfE guidance and legislation to ensure that each child has a happy and positive start to their school life in which they can build a foundation for a love of learning.

We ensure that children learn and develop well and are kept healthy and safe. We promote teaching and learning to ensure children's readiness for the next stage of their education and give children a broad range of knowledge and skills that provide the right foundation for good future progress through school and life.

We seek to provide:

- Quality and consistency, so that every child makes good progress and no child gets left behind
- A secure foundation through learning and development opportunities which are planned around the needs and interests of each child and are assessed and reviewed regularly.
- Partnership working between practitioners and parents.
- Equality of opportunity and anti-discriminatory practice, ensuring that every child is included and supported.

Introduction

This document outlines the philosophy, aims and principles of early years learning and teaching at Ashwell Primary School. The document underpins practice in all areas of provision.

Early childhood is the foundation on which children build the rest of their lives. At Ashwell we greatly value the important role that the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) plays in laying secure foundations for future learning and development, however we also believe early childhood is valid in itself, as part of life. It is important to view the EYFS as preparation for life and not simply preparation for the next stage of education.

The statutory framework for EYFS applies to children from birth to the end of the reception year. At Ashwell, the EYFS applies to children attending our Nursery to the end of the Reception year when they are five years of age.

Aims

Through the implementation of this policy, we aim to:

- Give each child a happy and positive start to their school life in which they can establish a solid foundation for a love of learning.
- Enable each child to develop socially, physically, intellectually and emotionally.
- Encourage children to develop independence within a secure and friendly atmosphere.
- Support children in building relationships through the development of social skills such as cooperation and sharing.
- Work alongside parents to meet each child's individual needs to ensure they reach their full potential.

Four guiding principles shape our practice:

- Every child is a unique child, who is constantly learning and can be resilient, capable, confident and self-assured.
- Children learn to be strong and independent through positive relationships.

- Children learn and develop well in enabling environments with teaching and support from adults, who respond to their individual interests and needs and help them to build their learning overtime. Children benefit from a strong partnership between the school and parents.
- Learning and development is important. Children develop and learn in different ways and at different rates.

To put these principles into practice, the school:

- Provides a balanced curriculum which takes children's different stages of development into account.
- Promotes equality of opportunity and anti-discriminatory practice.
- Works in partnership with parents.
- Plans challenging learning experiences, based on individual needs, which are informed by observation and assessment.
- Provides each child with a key person to ensure close relationships are developed.
- Provides a safe and secure learning environment.

The EYFS is based upon four principles:

- A Unique Child
- Positive Relationships
- Enabling Environments
- Learning and Development

A Unique child

At Ashwell, we recognise that every child is a competent learner from birth who can be resilient, capable, confident and self-assured.

Learning and development

The EYFS curriculum is based on an observation of children's needs, interests and stages of development.

In partnership with parents, the school promotes the learning and development of pupils to ensure they are ready for the next stage of education.

There are seven areas of learning and development that must shape education programmes in EYFS settings. These are split into two sections – prime and specific; however, all the sections are interconnected and important.

The 'prime' areas of learning and development are:

Con	nmunication and	Physical development	Personal, social and
lang	guage	Gross motor skills	emotional development
> 1	Listening, attention and	Fine motor skills	Self-regulation
ι	understanding		Managing self
> 3	Speaking		Building relationships

The 'specific' areas of learning and development are:

Literacy	Mathematics
Comprehension	Numbers
Word reading	Numerical patterns
➤ Writing
Understanding the world	Expressive arts and design
Past and present	Creating with materials
People, culture and communities	Being imaginative and expressive
The natural world

The early learning goals (ELGs) above are not used as a curriculum or in any way to limit the wide variety of rich experiences that are crucial to child development. The ELGs are used to support teachers to make a holistic, best-fit judgement about a child's development and their readiness for Year 1.

Activities are planned to reflect children's interests and individual circumstances in order to provide each child with a challenging and enjoyable experience.

The EYFS lead will discuss any cause for concern in a child's progress, especially in the prime areas of learning, with the child's parents. A strategy of support will be agreed upon and consideration will be taken as to whether the child may have SEND which requires additional support.

The school takes reasonable steps to provide opportunities for children with EAL to use their home language in play and learning whilst also ensuring that these children have sufficient opportunities to reach a good standard of English. During assessment, if a child is found to not have a strong grasp on English, the EYFS lead will contact the child's parents to establish their home language skills to assess if there is cause for concern about a language delay.

Each area of learning and development is implemented through activities the teacher believes are the most effective for the children they are teaching. The school will respond to each child's emerging needs and interests, guiding their development through friendly and positive interaction.

Activities are planned with regard to three characteristics of effective teaching and learning in the EYFS:

- Playing and exploring children investigate and experience things.
- Active learning children concentrate, keep on trying if they encounter difficulties and enjoy their achievements.
- Creating and thinking critically children have and develop their own ideas, make links between ideas, and develop strategies for doing things.

Inclusion

All children and their families are valued within our school. We believe that children should be treated as individuals but they should have equal access to the EYFS curriculum.

We give our children every opportunity to achieve their best. We help them do this by planning to meet the needs of both boys and girls, children with special educational needs, children who are more able, children with disabilities, children from all social, cultural and religious backgrounds, children from different ethnic groups, and those from diverse linguistic backgrounds. We carry out visits to current settings for all children starting our Nursery and Reception class. This enables us to support families and children at the earliest opportunity.

We strongly believe that early identification of special needs is crucial in enabling staff to support the development of each child and fully meet their needs. Concerns are always discussed with parents/carers at an early stage in an open, honest and sensitive manner and we will always seek their support and involvement.

The school's SENCO is responsible for providing additional information and advice to practitioners and parents, and for arranging external intervention and support where necessary. We also have extremely strong links with our Outreach Workers.

For further information see our Special Educational Needs Policies.

Positive Relationships

At Ashwell, we recognise that children learn to be strong and independent from secure relationships. We aim to develop caring, respectful and professional relationships with the children and their families.

Parents as partners

We recognise that parents/guardians are the child's first and most enduring educators. When parents/guardians and practitioners work together in early years settings, the results have a positive impact on the child's development. We feel a successful partnership needs to be a two-way flow of information, knowledge and expertise and so we aim to provide a variety of opportunities to support this. See Appendix 1.

Enabling Environments

At Ashwell, we recognise that the environment plays a key role in supporting and extending the children's development. We aim to create an attractive, welcoming and stimulating learning environment which will encourage children to explore, investigate and learn through first hand experience. We also aim to make it a place where children feel secure and confident, and are challenged to develop their independence. Activities are planned for both the inside and outside environment. Children have the freedom to move between the indoor and outdoor classroom throughout the school day. We plan carefully the transitions from one phase to the next especially from Reception to Year 1.

Staffing Ratios

At Ashwell, we follow the statutory framework guidelines for staffing ratios:

Nursery

For children aged three and over in maintained nursery schools and nursery classes in maintained schools:

- there must be at least one member of staff for every 13 children
- at least one member of staff must be a school teacher as defined by section 122 of the Education Act 2002
- at least one other member of staff must hold a full and relevant level 3 qualification

Reception

Reception classes in maintained schools are subject to infant class size legislation. The School Admissions (Infant Class Size) Regulations 2012 limit the size of infant classes to 30 pupils per school teacher (subject to permitted exceptions) while an ordinary teaching session is conducted. 'School teachers' do not include teaching assistants, higher level teaching assistants or other support staff.

Mixed Nursery and Reception Classes

Some schools may choose to mix their reception classes with groups of younger children (nursery pupils, non-pupils or younger children from a registered provider), in which case they must determine ratios within mixed groups, guided by all relevant ratio requirements and by the needs of individual children within the group. In exercising this discretion, the school must comply with the statutory requirements relating to the education of children of compulsory school age and infant class sizes. Schools' partner providers must meet the relevant ratio requirements for their provision.

Learning and Developing

At Ashwell, we recognise children develop and learn in different ways. Effective learning and teaching is supported through:

- the understanding that staff have the knowledge of how children develop and learn, and how this must be reflected in their teaching
- the range of approaches that provide first hand experiences, give clear explanations, make appropriate interventions, and extend and develop the children's play, talk or other means of communication
- the carefully planned curriculum that helps children to achieve the ELG's at the end of the EYES
- the provision for children to take part in activities that build on and extend their interests and develop their intellect, physical, social and emotional abilities

- the encouragement for children to communicate and talk about their learning and to develop independence and self-management
- learning with appropriate accessible space, facilities and equipment both indoors and outdoors, including the effective use of ICT
- the identification of children's needs, through observations of children's progress, which are regularly shared with parents

Plans are monitored by the Foundation Stage Leader.

How is teaching and learning organised in the Foundation Stage at Ashwell? Learning in the Foundation Stage is organised in several ways.

- 1. Whole class teaching. From the start of Foundation Stage children join in with whole class teaching activities.
- 2. Children working with an adult. The activity is set up in or outside of the classroom and led by an adult (teacher, teaching assistant or parent). The adult knows what they want the children to learn and shares this with the children. They then support the children's learning by asking questions, talking and interacting with them.
- 3. Child Initiated Learning. Activities are set up by the teacher and the children can choose which activity they want to complete. Many of these activities are similar to those completed with the help of an adult.
- 4. Children working by themselves on an activity of their choice. Equipment in our classrooms is stored so that children can access it easily. By providing an opportunity for the children to choose their own activity, we encourage independent learning.

Play Based Learning

Well planned play, both indoors and outdoors is one of the key ways in which children learn. It is the process through which children can explore, investigate, recreate and come to understand their world. It is not just imaginative play and role play but includes spontaneous, self-initiated lines of inquiry and exploration. Play is a vital component of children's lives. It is an important way skills are developed and practised. Play is essential for physical, intellectual, linguistic, emotional, and behavioural and social development.

"Children's play reflects their wide ranging and varied interests and preoccupations. In their play children learn at their highest level. Play with peers is important for children's development." ("Early Years Foundation Stage", Department for Children, Schools and Families, 2007)

Principles of High Quality Play

- Play is an intrinsic part of children's learning and development.
- Play has many possible but no prescriptive outcomes.
- Play challenges children and offers them the chance to learn in breadth and depth.
- Play draws on what children already know and can do and enables them to master what is new.
- Play enables children to apply existing knowledge and to practise their skills
- Play encourages children to communicate with others as they investigate or solve problems.
- Play offers children opportunities to explore feelings and relationships, ideas, and materials, connections and consequences.
- Play empowers children to make choices, to solve problems and to be independent in their learning.
- Play enables children to express fears or relive anxious experiences in controlled and safe situations.
- Play encourages children to struggle, to take risks and to become resilient as learners.
- Play can be supported and extended but not interfered with by adults.

 Play presents no barriers to children because of their language, cultures, abilities or gender.

Role of the adult

- To observe child-initiated play to understand and provide for their interests and needs.
- To plan and resource a challenging indoor and outdoor environment.
- To support children's learning through planned play activity.
- To extend and support children's spontaneous/self-initiated play.
- To extend and develop children's language and communication in their play
- To plan and deliver high quality focussed sessions based on prior learning and next steps of individual children.

Role of the EYFS Leader

It is the role of the Early Years Leader, under the guidance of the Head Teacher:

- To organise the delivery of Early Years Curriculum and to ensure progression and development.
- To monitor planning and quality of delivery within the curriculum.
- To keep abreast of developments within Early Years.
- To monitor and update resources and draw up a budget.
- To attend EYFS Coordinator meetings as appropriate and keep up to date with new initiatives.
- To ensure the development of practitioners in Early Years through training and courses.

Assessment

Assessment plays an important part in helping the school to recognise children's progress, understand their needs, plan activities, and assess the need for support.

Parents will be kept up-to-date with their child's progress and development, and the EYFS lead will address any learning and development needs in partnership with parents.

Formative assessments are used to assess the learning and development of children in the EYFS. Staff members will observe children to understand their level of achievement, interests and learning styles. This information will then be used to shape learning experiences for each child.

In the final term of the year in which a child reaches age five, and no later than 30 June in that term, the EYFS profile will be completed by the child's class teacher.

Reasonable adjustments will be made to the assessment process for children with SEND as appropriate.

Role of Parents/Carers

The Foundation Stage team strongly believe that developing an effective working partnership with parents/carers has a positive impact on children's development and learning.

We value parents/carers by:

- showing respect and understanding for the role of parents/carers as children's first and most enduring educator.
- encouraging parents/carers to share accounts of their child's development and any concerns they may have and take action to support where appropriate
- providing a welcoming environment by being approachable and friendly
- establishing an atmosphere of trust and confidence
- inviting parents/carers to initial meetings to share information about their children and about our school
- sharing information about the curriculum through meetings e.g. reading meeting for the reception parent/carers, sending newsletters/leaflets home about topics, displays, informal discussions, class and general boards sharing plans and other school and community information
- providing opportunities for parents/carers to attend social events with children and staff
 e.g. coffee morning for new Nursery & Reception parents
- inviting parents/carers into the classroom to share expertise/interests and time to work with and help the children and staff in a variety of ways
- meeting with parents/carers each term to share children's achievements and together discuss next steps for development
- encouraging home school links through support with the home school reading programme
- invitations to assemblies and other whole school events
- by being available at the beginning and end of the day to talk to parents/carers on an informal basis. If further time is needed to discuss particular issues an appointment can be arranged.
